What Made George Washington Great?

Join us on Presidents' Day when author and historian, Todd DePastino, will talk broadly about our greatest and most indispensable Founder, George Washington. It's not easy to talk about Washington. He didn't like his private life to be revealed, and he preferred to be remembered as the white marble "Father of the Country," the man on the dollar bill. But Washington was as fascinating as the other Founders and, unlike the others, his greatness relied not on special talents or abilities, but rather his character. Boxed lunch is $10 per person.

More about Todd DePastino

Todd is the founding director of the Veterans Breakfast Club. Todd's interest in veterans' stories first grew out of his work as a historian. Todd is author and editor of seven books, including the award-winning Bill Mauldin: A Life Up Front (W.W. Norton), a biography of the famed WWII cartoonist. He has a Ph.D. in American History from Yale University and has taught at Penn State Beaver and Waynesburg University, where he received the Lucas-Hathaway Award for Teaching Excellence.
